The most valuable material that could be found has been collected and reprinted entire, or the essential parts have been selected, thus eliminating much repetition and furnishing the investigator the main arguments on both sides of the question. Much of the material is from original sources, and is not available to the average reader or library.

Each volume contains a complete bibliography, and is arranged with a view to the special need of Librarians, High School Debating Leagues, and others who want reliable information in condensed form.
